

I have been an Alaskan for over 21 years. In those years I have seen our government grow, and grow, and grow some more, at the expense of the residents. There is definitely something wrong when the attitude of government is to spend, spend, spend, and if they run short of money they will find some way to tax the businesses and/or individuals to pay for it. A sad way to run any government. It is time for "WE THE PEOPLE" to regain control of this runaway train. I am not a politician, nor do I want to become one, I, however, am the owner of a successful business and will bring my business ethics and knowledge to a City Council that appears to lack those qualities. I can't say I can change anything as a council member, but I can promise there will definitely be a new voice. Homer, my town, needs to be represented by the people that make this town possible. A vote for me is a vote in the right direction
