A. Borough Report

Kelly Cooper, Kenai Peninsula Borough Assembly President, commented they will be certifying the results from the Mayoral Run-Off at their next meeting and they will begin implementing the transition plan that has been put in place. She reported on the recommendations from the State Assessing Department Audit on how the Borough can better roll out changes to assessing models as well as asking for residence assistance in gathering information. They are requesting both buyers and sellers provide purchase/sales price in real estate transactions, previously they only asked buyers, and the return of information is better. They also gather information through the appeal process. Highlights of their action plan include doing public outreach including advanced notice of planned canvass inspection areas, canvass areas in a four year rotation, improved communication regarding accurate sales information, and assign the highest priority to collection and quality control of land influence factors borough-wide. Land Appraisal staff and managers are reviewing the land valuation model specification and calibration in order to further improved model performance. Assembly President Cooper noted that there were a lot of conversations about increases, but there were values that decreased quite a bit. There were no findings that said the Borough made mistakes or violated code or statues, only ways they can do better and fine tune the process. She commented that Assembly member Bagley is introducing an ordinance to institute a 6% bed tax to be on the 2018 ballot with a public hearing December 5th. She will be asking for a postponement until after the first of the year to allow time to look at other alternatives. She shared preliminary information about a 1% tourism tax which she will bring forward as an alternative as it get closer to budget discussions. She will keep Council updated on that. Another ordinance is being introduced to authorize certain volunteers to serve on their respective service areas boards. She explained issues in smaller areas like Anchor Point have a difficult time finding people to serve on their boards and how this change could benefit those areas.

There was brief discussion regarding the tourism tax and property tax model.

City Manager. Introduction October 30, 2017, Public Hearing and Second Reading November 27, 2017.

Memorandum 17-134 from City Manager as backup

ADERHOLD/LORD MOVED TO INTRODUCE ORDINANCE 17-41.

In response to a request for information on how the the purchase price was determined, City Manager Koester reviewed the information included in her backup memorandum. She explained three years ago the Alaska Mental Health Trust Authority Land Office (TLO) claimed owning the properties and the City didn't have the authority to use lot 42. The City agreed to an appraisal to establish the value of the properties outlined in the ArcMap overlay included in the packet for the baseball bat, trapezoid, and triangle shaped parcels which came in at $550,000. She reviewed the negotiations that took place over the three years for the City to get to the point to purchase lot 42 in its entirety and clear up any cloud on the title for the baseball bat. City Manager Koester recognizes the City is paying a little more, but it's a good compromise to avoid a costly legal battle.

Question was raised regarding the Kenai Peninsula Borough assessment, which is much lower. City Manager Koester commented it often is the case when an appraisal is done for fair market value, that you get a different number than what the Borough provides. We have the property on the spit appraised by Derry and Associates every five years, and they provide us with a per square foot charge for our lease, which is $34,577 annually. When you take that number and apply a formula for the net present value of the actual property, is about $447,000 value for lot 42. She will provide a memo explaining this at the next meeting.

Discussion ensued regarding funding for the purchase and the concern of taking the amount directly from port and harbor reserves and the impact to funding other harbor projects. City Manager Koester noted there have been loans from the general fund in the past, so there's precedent there. She explained there is adequate funding for the general fund to support this loan and also how the interested rate for repayment was established.

Mayor Zak passed the gavel to Councilmember Aderhold and suggested an amendment to add language to the ordinance outlining the mission of the Alaska Mental Health Trust Authority, the purpose of the Alaska Department of Natural Resources, that it's the best interest to purchase lot 42 at the mouth of our harbor, and recommend the funds from the sale of this parcel go to establish a reserve fund to provide mental health services to the citizens of Homer through mental health agencies within the city limits of Homer. Mayor Zak resumed the gavel.

When asked for her thoughts on this, City Manager Koester suspects the Mental Health Trust would respond to that query with information of how much the spend and services they provide for residents of our community. She doesn't know that they have the mechanism to create a reserve account.

VOTE (introduction): NON OBJECTION: UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Motion carried.

CITY MANAGER'S REPORT

A. City Manager's Report

City Manager Koester commented regarding the City Attorney's attendance at the Council meetings. In the past the City Attorney would attend one meeting a month. She and Attorney Wells have been working on having her attend when there may be a lot of questions. While attendance a meeting is built into the contract, the City is still charged the hourly costs, and we are trying to control those costs. She encouraged Councilmembers to let her know if they feel the need the Attorney to be here or be available and she will make arrangements.

City Manager Koester also commented regarding problems with giving away sand that are addressed in her report. She asked Councilmembers for feedback or recommendations on how to proceed with this so they can address it at an upcoming meeting. Comments included:

- Using the tailings on the spit for public sand
- Recycling sand that is used from sweeping the roads
- Set up a fee for service in a separate area
- Consider and establish a policy for public sand

Councilmember Lord noted the Alaska Port and Harbor Association recognition of Deputy Harbor Master Matt Clarke as Employee of the Year and City Attorney Holly Wells as an Honorary Member of the Association.

- B. Memorandum from City Clerk Re: Confirmation of Attendees for the Alaska Municipal League 67th Annual Local Government Conference in Anchorage, Alaska, November 13-17, 2017

CITY ATTORNEY REPORT

COMMITTEE REPORT

- A. Employee Committee Report

Employee Committee Chair Matt Clarke, Deputy Harbormaster, and Vice Chair Julie Engebretsen, Deputy City Planner, addressed council. Mrs. Engebretsen read the memorandum and addendum that were included in the supplemental packet that addressed the Employee Committee recommendations for the 2018 health insurance plan and 2018 budget, the savings to the City those changes bring, and a request for consideration of a cost of living allowance. The recommendations are as follows:

1. Prescription drug coverage: Premera Option 1. This features the lowest cost total annual premium to the City and also minimizes impacts to employees.
2. No change to vision, dental and accidental death and dismemberment policies.
3. Elimination of the Buy Up plan health insurance option.
4. 1% COLA.

- B. Americans with Disabilities Act Compliance Committee

Councilmember Aderhold noted the ADA budget report included in the supplemental packet. She explained the money that was allocated in the 2017 budget was a capital project allocation so the balance of the $25,000 will be available in 2018 for work on the Transition Plan. She reported at their last meeting they discussed completing the last of the surveys and HR 620 that would create significant obstacles for people with disabilities to enforce their rights under Title III of the ADA to access public accommodations and would impede their ability to engage in daily activities and participate in mainstream society. She noted people can contact the City Clerk or Independent Living Center for more information.
