VISITORS

ANNOUNCEMENTS/PRESENTATIONS/BOROUGH REPORT/COMMISSION REPORTS

A. Mayor's Recognition – Earth Day 2013

Mayor Wythe read the Earth Day Proclamation.

B. Borough Report

C. Commissions/Board Reports:

1. Library Advisory Board
2. Homer Advisory Planning Commission
3. Economic Development Advisory Commission
4. Parks and Recreation Advisory Commission

Dave Brann from the Parks and Recreation Advisory Commission said the Commission is very active. They have been following the ongoing issue of the HERC building and understand that it may go away, and if it does, they want to start the thought process on replacing it with a recreation building because the community needs it. The Commission is pleased with the spit trail plan changes and appreciates the response to concerns that were shared. He pointed out that volunteers make a difference in the beautification of parks. There was a small group that did some clearing of a ditch at Hornaday Park to help with the drainage. Ben Walters Park has been adopted by the local Rotary Club and has plans for barrels with flowers, to straighten posts along the road going in, and straighten kiosks if time allows. It's important to recognize the value of volunteers in making those kind of things happen. It looks like there will be a campground host at Hornaday Park Campground this summer which is exciting because it should be very helpful. The commission hopes the Pier 1 campground will be usable for the season, it looks like a lot of work, but when people get into it, things can happen quickly. They see it as a valuable asset. Mr. Brann said the Council will be receiving the Diamond Creek Recreational Master Plan Draft.

The commission has approved of the plan and it is working its way through other commissions on its way to council. With help from Planning, progress is being made to get 3 yellow bicycle signs for Kachemak Drive within the DOT right of way as an indicator to motorists that there is a potential for bicycles on the road. Planning staff is working on the permits, he has raised money to pay for the signs, post, anchors, and hardware, but DOT or city staff will have to set the posts because DOT won't allow it to be done by volunteers. The Kachemak Drive Path Committee has changed their focus to concentrate on the Mud Bay portion for a multi user trail from the end of the spit trail to the access road from the airport.

5. Port and Harbor Advisory Commission

ORDINANCE(S)

CITY MANAGER'S REPORT

A. City Manager's Report

City Manager Wrede gave a verbal trip report from his meetings in Anchorage and Juneau, and noted the laydown items from the lobbyist that were received just before tonight's meeting. Regarding the PERS information provided, there is a lot of information and it is still a moving target with 8 days left in the legislature, so he is unsure how to advise council. Our lobbyists have been working hard on this with other municipalities, AML, and legislative staff. They have come upon what seems to be a good deal for municipalities whereby if they agree to pay a little more than the 22% for PERS, then we could, in exchange, get out from under the cost of termination studies and some costs of long terms PERS liability when a class of employee is eliminated. At this point City Manager Wrede suggests not taking a position, but with Council's permission he and the Mayor could monitor the progress and at a minimum say that we do or don't object, depending on how it affects the City.

City Manager Wrede reported that he met with DOT in Anchorage on the MOU for the $2 million earmark and the deep water dock. He thinks they are getting close to wrapping it up to get to work on the deep water dock expansion feasibility study, and thinks it is close enough to expect a resolution on the next agenda. He met with City Attorney Klinkner to discuss court cases, which are mentioned in the City Attorney's report. City Manager Wrede reported that in Juneau, besides lobbying for capital projects, he and the Mayor visited with the Coast Guard Admiral. They talked about Coast Guard housing needs, sequestration, shrinking budgets, and new talk about consolidating vessels in Kodiak. The Admiral offered feedback about improvements that would be beneficial for Homer to consider, and that they are talking about where to locate a new vessel coming in to replace an old one. It is something to keep an eye on, and also to look at what we can do to make Homer more attractive for the Coast Guard to be here. It would be a big impact if they left. City Manager Wrede said they thanked the Admiral for the Coast Guard being here and expressed how much we appreciate the new marine safety detachment and how beneficial they have already been to the economy and to safety as well. He said he visited the bond bank and hand delivered the application for the $4.2 million for the harbor projects. The preliminary financial report shows that the city is in really good shape fiscally, and easily capable of handling bond payments. They were impressed by the actions already taken to prepare for this. He and the Mayor talked to legislators about legislation the council is on record as supporting, and timing was good. It is a really lean capital budget with the senate cutting $100 million from the Governors capital budget, fortunately the $4.2 million for the harbor match and appropriation of traffic signal money to Skyline Fire Station and Harbormaster building were still in there. The house will have the budget now and are under pressure to cut it even further with the assumption that the Governor's oil tax bill will pass.

Mayor Wythe added that she will have some recommendations in her report at the next meeting in an effort to establish a more linear way of looking at and thinking about long range planning. On both the state and federal level it will become much more incumbent that the city is doing all the front work so they put forth shovel ready projects to be considered. The city's preparedness for the Harbor projects was very helpful in keeping those monies in the budget. She commented that her takeaway from talking with Coast Guard was pre-planning is very beneficial. They talked about the dock expansion and the new harbor, and part of the purpose of the new harbor would be to provide them with a better and safe harbor. He indicated the city would have the ability to put forth a proposal of what the city is looking at and a plan, but in order for it to be feasible for the city, we would need some long term commitments. Potentially through that process the city could garner a long term commitment from the Coast Guard. Mayor Wythe added that after this trip she has a better understanding of why former Mayor Hornaday always returned from these trips so doom and gloom, because talking to them is like it is a black hole. She recognized it is going to get difficult, but feels like they have to sharpen their pencils and look at how to make it move forward. She hopes we can keep it shiny here whether it is shiny there or not.

City Manager Wrede added they had a good meeting with Commissioner of DOT and really emphasized the deplorable condition of Pioneer Avenue and Lake Street. The Commissioner wasn't optimistic about the passing of a bill to dedicated transportation funds that would give more money and flexibility to DOT. After passing the resolution inviting the Governor to hold a picnic in Homer, Mayor Wythe invited Commissioners Bell and Kemp to Homer if we are awarded the picnic. If they come we can show them Pioneer Avenue first hand.

B. Employee Anniversaries

Mayor Wythe recognized there are 9 employees celebrating anniversaries this month for a total of 54 years of contribution to the City of Homer, and we appreciate them greatly.

C. National Registry of Emergency Medical Technicians Certificate of Recognition of Fire Chief Painter

D. Alaska Corps of Coastal Observers pamphlet

CITY ATTORNEY REPORT

City Attorney Klinkner reported regarding the Castner case, he filed a motion for summary judgment to dismiss the claims, Mr. Castner responded with alacrity and he suspects the case will be fully briefed and submitted to the court for, what he hopes to be, a prompt decision. The Auction Block case is kind of adrift now; the administrative law judge at the FMC has given herself an additional four months to do an initial and final decision on the case. The other issue with the Auction Block Company and its affiliates is their lease with the city. The lease is encumbered by a deed of trust for a secured loan to finance the improvement of the property with the processing facility, and the deed of trust is in default, with a foreclosure sale scheduled for some time in early May. Attorney Wells has been in communication with Wells Fargo's lawyer in charge of the foreclosure, and also with Mr. Hogan's council who is now a bankruptcy specialist. Attorney Klinkner thinks that Mr. Hogan will either work out an arrangement with the bank before the foreclosure sale, or he is in chapter 11 or 7. Lastly he noted the case pending before the Alaska Supreme Court brought by Frank Griswold complaining about the handling of a public records request back in 2008 and renewed in 2010, was submitted for decision. His office received a call from the court clerk requesting some pieces of the record that were sidetracked on their way to the Supreme Court, so he thinks there may be a decision on this matter soon. He will keep them posted.

COMMITTEE REPORT

- A. Public Arts Committee
- B. Transportation Advisory Committee
- C. Permanent Fund Committee
- D. Lease Committee
- E. Port and Harbor Improvement Committee
- F. Employee Committee Report
- G. Water and Sewer Rate Task Force

Mayor Wythe commented the Task Force presented their work to Council during the worksession today. It is not up to Council to consider for the new rate schedule.

BURGESS/ROBERTS MOVED TO AMEND THE TABLET USAGE POLICY AS FOLLOWS:

IF A USER DEMONSTRATES EXTREME NEGLIGENCE WITH A DEVICE, OR LOSES A REPLACEMENT DEVICE WITHIN 18 MONTHS OF BEING ISSUED A REPLACEMENT, THEN HE OR SHE SHALL BE FINANCIALLY RESPONSIBLE FOR THE COST OF THE REPLACEMENT.

Councilmember Burgess commented that his only intention is not to incur personal or financial liability for a device that is worth more than a year of a councilmember salary.

City Attorney Klinkner noted that he does not see any problem with the amendments proposed. Another reading is not required as it is not a public hearing item, but an administrative item of the Council dealing with its own operating manual.

ZAK/BURGESS MOVED TO AMEND THE AMENDMENT ON SECTION 10 TO REMOVE THE SENTENCE THE CITY SHALL MAINTAIN INSURANCE FOR LOSS, THEFT, AND DAMAGE TO THE DEVICE.

There was discussion that with this second amendment the city isn't required to get insurance, but is taking responsibility of the tablets and can determine if purchasing insurance for them is feasible. City Manager Wrede commented that that is acceptable.

COMMENTS OF THE AUDIENCE

Dave Brann, commented as a city resident not as a commissioner. He wanted to remind the Council how busy and profitable the spring was as far as recreation goes. Outside of regular school event tournaments there was the Fat Tire Bike Festival, Broomball International Tournament, the Homer Marathon which brought in people from as far away as Michigan, the Winter King Tournament which also brings people from out of state, the Homer Epic, and Sea to Ski. Some reports he got were that the rooms in town were maxed out on some of those weekends. There is a lot of impact that recreation plays. In the papers there was a mention of the values of non-profits and as a member he likes the fact that the small non-profits in town contributed, in 2011, $20 million to the town. He supports the Council's working with the Homer Foundation and contributing to non-profits in the town. Lastly Mr. Brann commented that the work on the water trail continues, on April 24 they are having their first educational forums at Islands and Ocean. Experts will be speaking on whales, dolphins, and porpoises, and also on sea otters and wildlife viewing etiquette and techniques in general.

Bill Williams asked for clarification whether resolution 13-033 had been adopted. Mayor Wythe confirmed that it was adopted with the adoption of the consent agenda.

Larry Slone, city resident, thanked Councilmember Burgess for his clarification about the natural gas administration costs. He encouraged the Council to look favorably on the proposed water and sewer rate schedule that was shown at the worksession. There has been a lot of effort put in to it by task force. The rate model is based on the principle of equity which comes down to the cost causer is the cost payer. The task force was able to identify significant cost differences among some groups of users. When those are factored in there will be more shifting of costs again, but he reminded them the ultimate result will be to balance accounts. He encouraged them not to be cavalier about giving any special exceptions to socialize some of the costs for user groups. It will dilute the effectiveness once again, go back to square one, and deal with the competitiveness and divisiveness amongst various users.

COMMENTS OF THE CITY ATTORNEY

City Attorney Klinkner commented that at the next meeting they will be presented, for introduction, an ordinance that establishes the structure and authorizes the issuance of the first series of harbor revenue bonds for funding this year's projects. The structure will be such that the city can easily issue additional series of bonds in future years if they find the need and the revenues of the harbor will support the borrowing. He will not be present at the meeting but will be available by phone to discuss the details.

COMMENTS OF THE CITY MANAGER

COMMENTS OF THE MAYOR

Mayor Wythe thanked Deputy City Clerk Jacobsen for coming in and working with them. It has been really good, and hopefully good for her as a learning experience while the City Clerk has been enjoying time off. As we move forward, at the next meeting she will have some recommendations as a result of her trip to Juneau. They will result in some work for council as she feels like there are some strategic planning initiatives they need to take, and not defer to committees and commissions. Also the Council will begin to undertake the review of the water and sewer rates with the objective of having the rates available to the consumers in advance of the July implementation date. She further noted that the Ocean Drive assessment and property tax mil rate as well.

COMMENTS OF THE CITY COUNCIL

Councilmember Burgess thanked Mr. Slone for his comments and clarity on the water and sewer task force. He thinks it is important to keep in mind as complex as the rate model seems, a commodity based model encourages the most apolitical discussion about this topic. It eliminates the need to have a group come in claiming they are being punished every two years. It comes down to a gallon of water is a gallon of water, a hook up is a hook up, and it costs what it costs. If we can keep with that sentiment and feeling we won't undermine the work that the task force has done. In his mind there are three main components to address the larger issues of water and sewer. One is the rate schedule we choose, then infill, and lastly is thinking about an effective long term strategy for expanding the system in a way that is cost effective and equitable.

Councilmember Lewis recognized to 2 hockey players from Homer High who participated in national tournaments. Tommy Bowe, who plays for the Ice Hawks out of Kenai was in Detroit, and Hannah Baird who plays for an Anchorage U19 girls team at the national tournament in San Jose. Unfortunately they aren't coming home with the big trophies but they did a good job.

Councilmember Zak thanked the Mayor, City Manager, and Lobbyist for the reports. Maybe in the future we won't see as many opportunities for the capital improvement plan, but it's good to see there are some senate bills that could affect us positively here on the peninsula. It is good to see young people in the audience, and it's good to have the community feedback. It's good to see positive outcomes for future economic development, Dave Brann brought up quite a few opportunities. There is a lot going on. It's good to hear the Mayor coming back from Juneau talking optimistically and proactively about our community. Good job Councilmembers for the progress we have made. If you are concerned about water and sewer rates, he saw a breakdown at one of the breaks and thinks it will be easy for users to understand when they see their bill.

Councilmember Roberts acknowledged the certificate in the packet for Fire Chief Painter who was recognized for 30 years of service as an EMT. We are very fortunate to have him and his expertise on our fire department; she was impressed to see that. She also noted the the Alaska Corps Coastal Observers who are looking for people who live on or around the water in Alaska. There is more information at akcoastalcorps.org for people how might be interested.

Councilmembers Howard and Dolma had no further comments.

ADJOURNMENT
